New York -- Two Doctors Removed from Worker Treatment List: EAST [02/12/10]

The New York State Workers' Compensation Board (SWCB) said Thursday it has removed two doctors from its authorization list for treating injured workers.

SWCB said the State Board for Professional Medical Conduct suspended the license of Dr. Messim Roumi for six months effective Jan. 20. A hearing committee of the state licensing board sustained charges against Roumi of negligence on more than one occasion, incompetence on more than one occasion and failure to maintain accurate patient records. No current address was available for Roumi.

Roumi is banned from treating injured workers between Jan. 20 and July 19, SWCB said. Reports of treatments rendered prior to Jan. 20 are to be considered valid.

On Dec. 23, 2009, Dr. Gabriel G. Feldmar surrendered his license to practice psychology in New York. He was precluded from rendering psychological treatment to injured workers effective on that date. The board said it also does not have a valid business address for Feldmar.

Reports of treatment rendered prior Dec. 23 are to be considered valid, SWCB.

Questions can be directed to the Office of General Counsel at 518-496-9564.
